

THE DISASTER

The end of times was approaching. Some people cried, others enjoyed their last days, a few people believed in a miracle...

Suddenly, in the middle of nowhere, a sort of 3D-video appeared with a girl who seemed to live in another dimension. They all fell silent. She talked about a safe future without toxic gases. The only task was to plant healing trees whose seeds grew in a distant oasis. The telegram disappeared and those who had cried before were running desperately towards the seeds. They visualized the oasis, which was too perfect to be true. They fought to plant seeds, and only those who did it, died instantly.

Selfishness killed everyone as they were lethal seeds.
